EUREKA SITUATION.

Some Apprehension of Trouble on St. Patrick's Day.

ALL WAS QUIET YESTERDAY.

In Engineer Roughly Handled by the Crowd Monday Night.

The Mammoth Company Decides to Erect n Forty Stamp Mill-A Small Force to Be Put on-A New Manager.

Notwithstanding the reassuring reports sectived from Eureka that "all is quiet," the county clerk yesterday by the Meteor Chief Paul, Captain Donovan, County the lact cannot be disguised that there is considerable apprehension in the minds of many, both in Eureka and this city. The report received Menday night, to the effect that the Miners' union captured fourteen out of fifteen of the men taken over by Manager Hyde, appears to have been a mistake. Manager Hyde states that the anion secured but eight. One of his men, an engineer, who refused to join the union secured but eight. One of his men, an engineer, who refused to join the union secured but eight. One of his men, an engineer, who refused to join the union men with his mother in matters. A number of deputies were present, but refrained from recording to extreme measures through fear of presipitating more trouble.

A centleman who arrived from Eureka restering stated a very ugly feeling existed and he apprehended serious trouble before the strike was ended. The company is now working about fifty men in the mine.

President Thatcher and Manager Hydewer both in Salt Lake, and, with Judge Handerson, the company's attorney, they held a long consultation with Governor Thomas. The conference was probably due to the talk which is rife, of a demonstration by the union men on St. Patrick's day, and the fear that it might result in a serious collision. The powers of the governor and marshal in the last with the saltrone and efficients had a lalk with the saltrone and efficients to Eureka in case of emergency. An officer who came up from the centle proporter has a night that it a collision should occur, it would require the services of troops to quell the saturbance and protect the cotanany's property. Marshal Benton is doing all the can to pievent an outbreak, but it is soubtful whether he could maintain his control of the situation should the worst comp.

South streets at So'clock Monday night, in which case Dr. Gardiner was the attending physician?

This is the problem which aritated the mind of Coroner Taylor yesterday, until his white beard almost became whiter from the strain of thinking. At one time he thought he had it solved, but the technicality of law intervened and he is again in a quandary.

Chief Paul, Captain Donovan, County Attorney Murphy, his assistant, Mr. Elehnor, Coroner Taylor, Detective Shoets and Dr. Gardiner were closeted in the chief's office yesterday afternoon intempting to probe a mystery which presented neither front nor back, and which is still as anomalous as it was before investigation was had. The chief figure in this costerie of poople who have much to do with crine was Dr. Frederick Gardiner and the case of him being there was that all concerned in the interview believed he could answer the questior.

Yesterday morning Detective Sheets, accompanied by two men, one of whom is the son-in-law of Mrs. Mason, who is the landlady of the building where the child was born, entered Coroner Taylor's office, and the latter asked for an investigation of certain conduct of Dr. Gardiner. The story which leads up to this demand is as follows:

The first thing that such a careful, discerning, intelligent and consequently successful tradesman will do is, NOT to seek for the paper that will agree to make known his wants for the least money, nor will he necessarily patronize the journal claiming the largest chentage and demanding the greatest compensation, but he will use discretion in selecting the paper that has the majority of readers who are likely to use and buy his peculiar article of merchandise.

If he is a dealer in school books it is not fair to suppose he would advertise largely in a sporting journal, nor would he be apt to select some secular paper if he was conducting a dancing academy; nor would he advertise extensively in farming or poultry magazines if he was engaged in the diamond trade or manufacture of silk goods. If he be in the grocery business, boots or shoes, hats or caps, hardware, dry goods or any particular line wherein the consumers and masses were patrons, he would unquestionably adopt a
